Skating Arena Subject Of Debate Between Council And Sports Association; To Move Or Not To Move Arena Is Problem

6% Penalty of Tax Arrears to Go Into Effect April 1; Council Told It Can Expropriate Sufficient Land in Order to Widen Lanes.

Regular meeting of the council was held on Monday evening. Present: Mayor Abousafy, Councilors, Cox, Dutil, Jenkins, Lowe and Wilson.

John McNeil and Bob Pattinson, president and secretary respectively of Coleman Community Sports Association, were present to discuss with council plans at present being considered regarding the arena. Mr. Pattinson stated that observation during the past two years had shown that the open air rink was not being used by more than six children per evening and it was the considered opinion of the Association that it had not served its purpose and should be closed and dismantled. Mr. McNeil, in speaking of the large rink, stated that either a lot of money would have to be spent on the building to put it into proper shape or it would have to be torn down as it is believed that it is on the verge of being condemned. Mr. John D'Appolonia and Mr. Herb Hewitt had been engaged to make a detailed study of the building and report their findings to the Sports Association. It was his personal opinion that the rink would not open next year if nothing was done to it this summer. It was revealed that the roof was bad and only as a result of the snow being blown off it this winter by the winds was the ice saved when thaws were experienced.

Mr. Pattinson stated it was the aim of the Association, should the rink be moved to the Park, that it be rebuilt to serve as a civic centre with other facilities incorporated into the building. Council advised that a report should first be received from the two arena inspectors, a draft made of the proposed new building showing what it would incorporate and a plan showing how the financing of the building could be met and the building maintained. It assured the two delegates that should the council then find the plan feasible and in the interests of the community they could be assured of the council's support.

John D'Appolonia's appointment as town assessor was approved by the Dept. of Municipal Affairs.

Town solicitor Sam Bannan was present and informed council that it had the power to expropriate land in order to widen lanes found too narrow. Council plans on making certain lanes 12 feet in width. A by-law was given third reading whereby on April 1 of each year a 6% penalty will be added to all tax arrears. Said penalty would then be added to the tax arrears and should they remain unpaid during the following twelve months 6% of the total amount would again be added.

Mr. Bannan explained the history connected with Mr. Dave Gillespie's residence which had originally been built on a road allowance and which has now been resurveyed, bringing the road allowance to the west side of the Gillespie residence and allowing Mr. Gillespie to remain where he is at present. It was revealed that the roadway now measures 50 feet, while Mr. Gillespie's lot measures 66 feet although he has not fenced in all this area. The surveyor's bill is $80.60. Following Mr. Bannan's explanation council agreed to pay the bill.

It was revealed that Tony Lycka, who owes the town a considerable sum of money, has failed to pay an agreed monthly sum for the past few months. A letter will be sent him stating that should the arrears not be paid within a specified time notice will be given him to vacate his west Coleman premises.

A letter was received from the CNP baseball league asking council's support in persuading Ottawa to inaugurate daylight saving time this summer. Council had already taken this step and will advise the league of this fact.

The MHO's report revealed that there were many citizens suffering from colds during February. The sanitary condition of the town was improving satisfactorily.

Buildings chairman Adam Wilson brought to council's attention the condition of the council chamber following some public meetings. Matches, ashes, cigarette butts; yes, even spitting, was left on the floor. He asked that a woman be employed to clean up after these meetings and steps be taken to impress on persons attending meetings that they should be more careful with their disposal of matches, etc. Council gave him authority to interview parties who might be willing to earn a few dollars cleaning up the council chambers after meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snider Leave For New Westminster

Had Resided in Coleman 18 Years; Worked 12 Years at Coke Ovens.

Residents of Coleman for the past thirty years, Mr. and Mrs. John Snider, of east Coleman, said good-bye to family members and friends early Sunday morning and with their daughter Elsie boarded the train for New Westminster, where they will make their future home.

They came to Coleman in 1928 and took up residence in east Coleman. Mr. Snider gaining employment with International in the mine. Twelve years ago he came out of the mine to work at the coke ovens, a job he kept up to last week when he made preparation to leave.

Mr. Snider is handy with hammer and saw and as a carpenter should have no difficulty in obtaining employment at the west coast.

Miss Elsie is well known among the younger set here. She was on the Bencko store staff before enlisting in the WD, RCAF and training at the west coast, particularly at Victoria. She voiced her love for the coast and appeared quite happy that her parents had decided to reside there.

Calgary Defeated Bellevue In Juvenile Final

Bellevue Won First Game 7-5 But Lost Second 5-1 To Lose The Series 10-8.

A scrappy Bellevue juvenile squad went down fighting to the Calgary Buffaloes in a two-game total-goals series for the juvenile championship of Alberta at Bellevue on Friday and Saturday last. Bellevue won the first game 7-5, but went down hard in the second 5-1 to lose the series 10-8. Both games were witnessed by near capacity crowds.

Bellevue, said to be the finest juvenile aggregation to be developed in the Pass in years, lacked the speed and confidence of their opponents, who were the pick of the Calgary juvenile league.

In the first game Friday night, the locals were a little nervous, especially in the first period, but as the game progressed and they found themselves within hailing distance of their opponents, whose shooting was very erratic, they came surging from behind to take a two-goal lead on the game by a 7-5 score and lost a third goal which saw the rubber go in and out of the net with such speed that the goal judge failed to see it.

Kubasek was the sharpshooter for Bellevue with three goals and an assist, closely followed by White with two goals. Markosky, in the Bellevue net, was an outstanding performer on both nights, as his defence was unable to check the speedy Calgary forwards and time after time he found himself holding the fort alone.

Rutter starred the first night for Calgary with two goals and gave way to Schmid on the second night, the latter getting three assists.

The ice was particularly heavy on Saturday night and Bellevue failed to match the form they had displayed on Friday night. Calgary got the jump on them immediately at the start of the second game, scored two goals in less than six minutes to put the series back on even terms and from that point on were never in danger of losing the series.

Since the Lions club organized in Bellevue, hockey has been given a sharp impetus and youngsters are being developed who will make a name for themselves in senior ranks in years to come. As a reward for reaching the Alberta final, it is understood the Lions club is giving the team a trip to Great Falls, Montana.

Armored Workshop Recruiting Party Here

Will Be In Pass From Seven to Ten Days; Require 285 Persons to Fill All Ranks.

A recruiting party from headquarters of MD 13 arrived in the Pass on Monday and were recruiting for the Armored Workshop at Bellevue on Tuesday, Coleman on Wednesday and Blairmore today.

Men between the ages of 17½ years, and 45 years who desire to enlist for training in the Workshop to be located in the Pass can contact Chris Rogers, chairman of the Coleman committee, who will in turn bring them in touch with the recruiting party.

One of the mobile Workshop lorries was in the Pass last week and many took the opportunity of inspecting it and trying out its machinery. Any doubts they may have had regarding the modern machinery it might be equipped with were quickly dispelled when the instructors put the machinery to work.

Interest is quite high locally in this Workshop and it is expected many young men will avail themselves of the opportunity of training as some trade.

When in Bellevue the recruiting party will be located in the Canadian Legion club rooms. In Coleman they will be at the Legion club rooms, and while in Blairmore the recruiting depot is in Blairmore Motors showroom, formerly Red Trail Motors.

MUTUAL INSURANCE CO. CELEBRATES ITS 50TH ANNIVERSARY

This year, the Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company, which was organized in 1896 by 20 broad-minded farmers at Wawanesa, Manitoba, is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the organization. The growth of the Wawanesa seems like a fairy tale; at the end of the first year of business the treasury contained $5.96, and today the company has assets of over $5,750,000 for the protection of its members.

Being Canada's largest fire mutual, a position it acquired by sound management and fair and prompt settlement of losses, the Wawanesa now provides "freedom from worry" protection in the most satisfactory and least costly manner to fire insurance buyers. Western Canadians have benefited greatly from many of the free services offered by this company, one of which is the loaning of fire extinguishers in unprotected areas.

OMISSION

Omitted from the Snider-Tiberghien wedding story last week was mention of George Burles, formerly of Blairmore, who sang "I'll Walk With You" during the signing of the register.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsay accompanied their daughter, Miss May, to Calgary at the week end, from which point May set off on her long trip to Australia, where she is to be married. Accompanying the Ramsays to Calgary were Mr. and Mrs. J. Kimmear sr. May is fortunate in having company all the way to Australia. English Bride Arrived Here On Monday

Mrs. George Burtinik Has High Praise for Red Cross; Had Rough Trip Across Atlantic.

The second of Coleman's English brides arrived here on Monday. She arrived in Calgary with her three-year-old daughter Caroline on Monday morning where she was met by her husband.

Interviewed by The Journal Wednesday morning, she remarked that the Red Cross were exceptionally kind to them across Canada, giving them cigarettes and candies at various points. The trip across the Atlantic had been rather rough, but the little daughter had stood up very well, so that it had been rather enjoyable. The little girl, however, had tired under the long tedious train journey and she had been greatly relieved when Calgary was at last reached.

Mrs. Burtinik has not had much chance to get a good look at Coleman and the mountains, but she was assured both by her husband and The Journal that the Rockies in the springtime are unsurpassed anywhere. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Burtinik plan on taking their new daughter-in-law over the Logan Pass once the fine motoring weather is experienced.

George and his bride and daughter will soon reside in their home on Fifth street, George being an employee of International.

Fire started in home of Mrs. Olga Kropovich; Homes Burned to Ground; Little Saved.

One of the worst fires in years burned to the ground five homes in east Coleman, starting approximately 2:30 Tuesday morning and burning furiously for several hours after. Due to lack of water facilities, no fire hose could be brought into play and with the exception of a few pairs of water thrown on the fire, would be firefighters could only help in saving pieces of furniture and clothing and the stand helplessly by while the flames devoured home after home.

The fire started in the home of Mrs. Olga Kropovich and was first noticed by John Bianoewski, next door neighbor, who promptly gave the alarm for help. The fire had a firm hold on the Kropovich home and it was not long before the homes on either side of it started to smolder and then burst into flame. By this time more and more helpers appeared on the scene and many hands aided in trying to save as much as possible.

A few articles of furniture and clothing was saved, but so fast was the pace of the fire that it soon ate into two other homes in the block.

Hazuka's Grocery store was in danger as the home beside it was in flames. Many willing workers started to take out the grocery stock and fixtures. At the other end of the block was Mrs. Blazenko's home and a gallant and successful effort was made to save this property. Alex. Blazenko, the owner's son, kept pail after pail of water running over the shingles to protect the roof from sparks. The contents of the home was taken out to the street where it was in fire to a pillow. The roar and smell then did a little damage to the furniture. However, the home was saved as well as Hazuka's store while the five homes between them were burned to the ground and this morning twisted steel that had formerly been beds was to be seen in the smouldering embers.

The homes destroyed belonged to Mrs. Olga Kropovich, four rooms, and occupied by Mrs. Kropovich and three small children; John Sturko, four rooms, occupied by Mr. Sturko, his wife and four children; John Jasinsky, who rented the four room house to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scrimbit; John Bianoewski, three rooms, occupied by Mr. Bianoewski, his wife and child, and a two story home owned by Mrs. Blazenko and rented by Mr. and Mrs. G. Dancoine and four children.

All homes were insured although it is known some of the tenants lacked insurance on their furniture.

During the long hours which the fire raged some of the workers were given coffee by thoughtful women and early Tuesday morning were still to be seen at the scene of the fire with backed and weary faces.

Two electric poles, one burned away from the wires, will have to be replaced by Stuart Murdoch and Bill Bennett were on the job Tuesday morning making the wires safe.

CONFERENCE HAS HARD JOB TO DECIDE HOW TO DIVIDE FOOD AMONG STARVING COUNTRIES

WASHINGTON.—The 47 countries which are members of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration are meeting at Atlantic City to seek means to apportion the world's short food supply as fairly as possible.

The conference, bringing UNRRA back to the city where it was organized three years ago, comes at the peak of its work, and may be its most harassed meeting.

It expects desperate pleas for more food from delegates of the countries where malnutrition is widespread and starvation threatens: Poland, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Byelo-Russia, the Ukraine, Italy, Albania, China, India and the Philippines.

The answers must come from the only countries with food surpluses, the United States, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Brazil.

The conference also faces the knotty problem of the fate of some 900,000 refugees—mostly from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, and Russia—who are still in the occupation zones of the United States, the United Kingdom and France.

Initial fund of $1,850,000,000 ran out recently. But a second purse, almost as large, has been pledged by second donations from the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the Dominican republic and more are expected.

UNRRA now has plenty of ships and crews, but railroad equipment is short in two countries with surplus wheat: the United States and the Argentine.

But the real reason for the food shortages lies in the widespread crop failures of last autumn, mostly due to drought in southern Europe, North Africa and in the rice fields of Burma.

For the political refugees UNRRA can only ask to extend its supervision, perhaps for another six months. As it stands UNRRA is not permitted to furnish their food. That burden falls on the governments of the occupying armies: the United States, the United Kingdom and France. UNRRA only supplies the administrative work.

RIOT IN INDIA

Fifteen Persons Killed During Election In Bihar Province

BOMBAY.—Fifteen persons were reported killed in an election riot, followed by police action, near Ranchi, Bihar province.

Police firing on an Indian mob caused nine deaths while a clash between Congress supporters and workers of the Aborigine party was believed to have caused six.

At Cheygar, in the North Arcot district, one person was killed when police fired on a crowd of 4,000 attacking a food supply centre after they had failed to get a particular brand of rice.

LONDON, Ont.—The London Free Press has purchased a five-passenger aircraft for use in news-gathering by its editorial staff. Official pilot is W. E. Cordell, a reporter, whose flying experience dates from 1937 when he joined the St. Catharines, Ont., flying club.

WAS QUICKLY SOLD

HAVANA.—A quota of 250,000 tons of Cuban sugar set aside from this year's crop for sale to countries other than the United States, was oversold after several Latin American countries made formal bids for large amounts.

FARMERS IN BRITAIN AGAIN TAKE UP FIGHT TO PRODUCE FOOD FOR HOME CONSUMPTION

LONDON.—British farmers, gardeners, and even the humble allotment amateurs are busy with the "dig-against-famine" campaign.

Responding to urgent appeals of the government again to grow more food, they are working as they worked during the days of the battle of the Atlantic when every ounce of food grown at home was a ounce less exposed to U-boat attack.

Farmers who thought to turn their land to more remunerative crops have abandoned dreams of larger profits and less work and are preparing to plow up their land to sow cereals as soon as the snow disappears.

The National Allotments Society has called upon allotment holders and small gardeners to grow 110,000,000 ($44,500,000) worth more food this year—although their contribution to the country's supply is already estimated at between 120,000,000 and 130,000,000 annually.

For farmers, this big "dig-against-famine" campaign is not so easy.

POSED AS DOCTOR

Man Who Served On Passenger Liners Draws Prison Term

WINCHESTER, Hampshire, Eng.—Garret Frederick Matson was sentenced to three years penal servitude at the Winchester assizes for representing himself as a doctor and serving in that capacity on passenger liners.

Matson helped convict himself by claiming he obtained a medical degree at the University of British Columbia—which has no faculty of medicine.

He served two years as a doctor on five ships of the Clan and Union Castle lines and said when he registered with the British medical council under a wartime scheme to enroll doctors with overseas degrees that he had graduated from the University of British Columbia.

Prosecutor C. S. Burt said Matson, under the name of Frederick Garry de Laurier, "apparently bamboozled everybody, including patients, ship officers and the shipping companies."

When arrested, he was serving on the liner Strling Castle in the uniform of a surgeon commander and was wearing decorations, including the Distinguished Service Order and the Distinguished Flying Cross, to which he was not entitled.

VISIT DECIDED

Field Marshal Montgomery Will Come to Canada In September

VANCOUVER.—D. S. Montgomery, Vancouver harnesser and brother of Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, said the great British soldier now definitely expects to visit Canada next September as a guest of the Dominion government "and it is altogether likely he will come to Vancouver."

At Aulch, Germany, last November 27, the field marshal announced he would visit Canada "in the spring," but it is assumed this had to be postponed because of his later appointment as chief of the Imperial general staff.

The news came in a letter just received by his brother from the former Sir Bernard Montgomery, who was elevated to the peerage as Viscount Montgomery of Alamein in the King's new year's honours list.

He will take over his duties as chief of the Imperial general staff in June and expects it to be "a terrific job," the letter said.

STOCKS REDUCED

Sharp Drop From Last Year In Canada's Canned Goods

OTTAWA.—Stocks of canned fruits and vegetables held by canners, wholesale dealers and chain store warehouses Jan. 1 were lower than holdings at the same date last year, the Dominion bureau of statistics has reported.

Canned fruit stocks amounted to 1,801,322 dozen cans compared with 2,286,514 in 1945, while canned vegetables totalled 5,683,160 dozen cans compared with 10,691,113. Stocks of jams, jellies, marmalades, apple juice, tomato juice, condensed milk and canned soups also were reduced.

DOING GOOD WORK

REGINA.—Canadian agricultural research scientists deserve high praise for their work in overcoming the hazards of frost, rust, scowly and other menaces to wheat production, A. M. Duckham, agricultural advisor to the United Kingdom high commissioner at Washington, said in an interview.

They are faced with two major problems—manpower and the 11th hour nature of the appeal. Their crops were planned months ago and to turn over now to growing more wheat means upsetting all their carefully-made plans and in many cases putting spring sown wheat into not too suitable ground.

Their greatest problem is manpower. To implement the new campaign, it is estimated between 125,000 and 200,000 additional workers are required on the land.

Large numbers of German prisoners of war are being brought into the country from the United States and Canada. But they are coming to replace Italian prisoners who are being repatriated and to fill the gaps left by demobilization of thousands of women from the women's land army.

Last year some 2,200,000 acres of land were under wheat compared with 1,900,000 in 1938. However, this was 880,000 acres less than in 1944.

Explosion In Chemistry Laboratory Injured Teacher And Two Others

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—Dorothy Callaghan, 17-year-old high school student, was killed and the chemistry teacher and two other pupils injured in an explosion in the chemistry laboratory of the Kimberley high school.

The explosion, which sent Silas Muraro, teacher, and Richard Scull, of nearby Chapman camp, and Arthur Christensen, to hospital with cuts, suffered from flying glass and shock, was believed to have resulted from an experiment. Both boys are 17 years old.

There was little damage to the classroom and no fire resulted.

GANDHI'S OPINION

Fasts For Political Ends Are Condemned By Indian Leader

BOMBAY.—Mohandas K. Gandhi, writing in his weekly newspaper, Harijan, condemned various fasts for political ends now taking place or threatened in India.

"There would be an end to all decency and reason if such fasting became effective," he said. "As author of fasting as a weapon of passive resistance I must state that I cannot give up an opinion honestly held, even if the whole world fasts against me."

BRITAIN VERY WELL PLEASED WITH NEW CREDIT LOAN WHICH CANADA HAS ARRANGED FOR

NO DECISION YET

Prison Quarters For Kurt Meyer Depend On Accommodation Available

OTTAWA.—Except for preliminary negotiations there have been no further communications between defence headquarters at Ottawa and British officials over permanent prison quarters for Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, German S.S. division commander, given a life sentence after his conviction in connection with the shooting of Canadian war prisoners.

It was reliably learned there will be no further developments until the last elements of the Canadian army overseas are about to be withdrawn from Britain.

Meyer will be kept under Canadian military guard until that time. "But we'll have to have a decision on his disposition by that time," an official said. "If the British won't agree to keep him in a military prison in England or if a German civilian authority hasn't been organized to receive this type of prisoner by that time, then we'll have to bring him to Canada."

A MODERN TOUCH

Young Saskatchewan Trapper To Carry On Business With Plane

EDMONTON.—A youthful trapper and mink rancher from western Saskatchewan, 22-year-old Zane Palmer, of Meadow Lake, is planning to link his business interests in modern style.

He operates a mink ranch 30 miles north of Meadow Lake, and a winter trapline 70 miles to the northwest, and plans to branch out into spring muskrat trapping in an Alberta area east of Athabasca. To do so he has bought a cabin aircraft and is taking flying instruction here.

Palmer hopes to take his private pilot's tests shortly, go home for a visit and then continue training for a commercial licence. His mink ranch is at Waterhen Lake, where his father also is a fur rancher. There is a small lake near the trapline base camp and Palmer thinks he can get in and out of the areas successfully in his plane.

PLAN FOR INDIA

NEW DELHI.—A 10-year plan to provide all of India's 400,000,000 people with an adequate medical service is announced in the report of the health survey and development committee of the government of India just published.

Many of the recommendations are revolutionary in relation to Indian standards of living and the most important concerns free medical treatment.

CABINET HAS APPROVED NEW CONSTITUTION DRAFTED BY THE JAPANESE GOVERNMENT

TOKYO.—The Japanese government announced through Gen. Douglas MacArthur that it had drafted a new constitution abolishing the nation's right to make war and reducing Emperor Hirohito to a figurehead.

The new constitution, approved by the emperor and the cabinet of Premier Kijuro Shidehara, established government authority vested in elected representatives of the people.

Chief Cabinet Secretary Wataru Narahashi said the draft of the new constitution will be submitted to the new diet which is expected to convene about May 10.

The first article of the new constitution, approved by the cabinet after a stormy two-day extraordinary session, provides that:

"The emperor shall be a symbol of the state and of unity of the people, deriving his position from the sovereign will of the people."

The second article said the imperial throne shall be dynastic and succession shall be in accordance with the imperial house law passed by the diet.

MacArthur in announcing the government's decision said "the new and enlightened constitution has my full approval."

The proposed constitution leaves the emperor the following powers:

1. To appoint a prime minister as designated by the diet.

OTTAWA.—The new Canadian credit of $1,250,000,000 to the United Kingdom is greater than the proposed loan by the United States, taking account of relative populations and national incomes of the two nations. Sir Wilfrid Eady, chief British negotiator, told a press conference. Other points cleared up by Sir Wilfrid were:

The waiver of interest clause was precisely the same language as the waiver of interest clause in the projected United States loan to the United Kingdom but if the waiver of interest clause in the U.S. loan is not approved, then the Canadian clause also will be dropped.

If the United States loan fails approval of congress some entirely new arrangements will have to be made, not meaning, however, an increase of the Canadian loan.

The great bulk of the loan to Britain will be expended in Canada within the next two years.

First of all it will be expended for primary necessities, foodstuffs and supplies. Then, as British export income rises, some will be expended on importing Canadian manufactured goods to make life easier for the hard pressed British people.

The Canadian credit is not a "tidal" loan. Though the bulk will be expended in Canada, some may be expended in other areas where needed.

Canadian exporters to Britain will be able to charge their sterling into dollars to expend in other directions. Australia, for example, will be able to get some dollars for her exports to Britain enabling her to buy imports from Canada. The proportion of such expenditures in the sterling area to expenditures outside will run at the rate of about 11 to one and a half.

In the British agreement to pay Canada a million and a half dollars to settle all claims between the two countries a million dollars was merely striking a rough balance between war claims of Britain for food and supplies to troops against certain unsettled Canadian claims. The other half million was to pay off claims against India.

Sir Wilfrid expressed particular pleasure at the language of the agreement stating that it finally winds up all claims, "known and unknown." He was also pleased with the clause that provides for continuous consultation between the two governments to settle all minor questions arising in the agreement.

The nominal rate of interest on Canada's new loan to the United Kingdom of $1,250,000,000 is fixed at two per cent. But if the first five interest free years between now and January 1, 1951, when interest begins to run, are counted in the actual interest rate is about 1.62 per cent.

FINDS STOLEN JEWELS

NASSAU.—An impoverished negro woman picked up a bracelet, brooch and ring in a post office and turned them in to the office of a newspaper. They proved to be among jewelry worth $30,000 stolen in Nassau Feb. 17 from Mrs. Joan Boatwright of New York. The diamond and platinum bracelet alone was worth $14,000.

2. Formulation of amendments to the constitution, laws, cabinet orders and treaties.

3. Convocation of the diet.

4. Dissolution of the house of representatives.

5. Proclamation of the general elections.

6. Attestation of the appointment and dismissal of ministers of state, ambassadors and other officials provided by law.

7. Granting of amnesty, commutation, punishment, reprieve and restoration of rights.

8. Receiving foreign diplomats and performance of ceremonial functions.

The Red Cross Must Carry On

The world is in pain. There is more than enough work to do for all the agencies whose mission it is to relieve distress. The Red Cross has been one of the great sources of aid to victims of calamity, in peace as in war. If the crippled and the sick are to be helped throughout the land, if disasters are to be met effectively, if plague spots are to be wiped out and the general health of our people promoted — the Red Cross must carry on.

But the funds are needed to make these ministrations of mercy possible and effective. These funds come from the voluntary memberships and contributions of the general public from people who have a fellow-feeling for the misfortunes and sufferings of their neighbors, wherever they may be, the Red Cross is a true democracy of goodwill.

To carry on the work that is waiting to be done the Red Cross in Alberta needs $200,000. During this month of March it is asking every good citizen in Alberta, who wants to be a good neighbor to those less fortunate, to join the Red Cross. A subscription of one dollar or more entitles you to membership. This is a challenge to free people to give freely in a cause that is truly international, that knows no boundaries of class or creed or color — the great cause of mercy.

Red Cross work begins at home. The international activities of the Red Cross and the terrific demands on its resources have overshadowed the good work it has been steadily carrying on right here at home. It was only natural that the need for aid on the battlefields of the world should hold the spotlight. The preparation and dispatching of parcels to prisoners of war, the organization of blood donor clinics and the establishment of blood banks for the emergency treatment of our wounded, were among the tremendous undertakings that were carried through here in Canada with the loyal and ungrudging support of the Canadian people.

These were the dramatic highlights of the Red Cross effort in wartime. The other work went quietly on, bringing healing and help and comfort and counsel in countless ways to the people of this Dominion.

There are casualties of peace, too. There are little crippled children born to a heritage of deformity or stricken by accident or disease. For these the Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital provides special skill and tender care, helping to restore normal strength and health to their broken bodies, and faith and courage to their daunted spirits. Thousands of children have been so helped in Alberta. The new larger hospital which is planned will make this help more widely available than ever.

Blood banks are needed in peace as well as in war. The Red Cross proposes to establish these all across the Dominion so that blood transfusions will be freely available to all who require this life-saving service.

At the outposts of civilization and in sparsely settled districts in Canada that cannot support a doctor, the Red Cross maintains nurses and nursing stations equipped to give emergency medical aid. These services, together with home nursing and practice training in First Aid in rural areas, bring help and comfort and essential instruction to portions of our population that would otherwise be left to face disease and accident without competent treatment or care.

Surely no one would willingly countenance the restriction of such services. Indeed they should, and must, be extended. Whether they are or not depends on the average citizen. For it is the multitude of small subscriptions that give power to the Red Cross, power to move effectively wherever the need arises. It is the responsibility of EVERY CITIZEN who has a thought for the stricken and helpless to see that this Red Cross Campaign in Alberta is a success.

Coleman Drama Festival April 4, 5 and 6

Six Plays Entered; Sidney Risk Again Secured as Adjudicator.

The Coleman Lions' will sponsor its fifth annual drama festival on April 4, 5 and 6. Inaugurated five years ago to encourage dramatics in southwestern Alberta, the drama festival has become an important and popular annual event in the community. It has done much to foster true talent both in Coleman and throughout other towns in southwestern Alberta.

That it has been successful and gained recognition and praised in the province is evident from the fact that this year it has been named by the Alberta Dramatic League as one of the southern Alberta sub-regional drama festivals. This means that the winning play will be sent to Calgary to compete in the regional drama festival, the winner of which will go to Winnipeg for the western Canada drama festival. Other sub-regional festivals are being held at Lethbridge, Calgary and Edmonton.

Each year in Coleman the plays and players have competed for the Lions' shield for the best play and the best actor and best actress awards. In addition there will be a new feature this year, two awards for the best supporting roles.

Choosing the winners will be the adjudicator Mr. Sidney Risk, drama director of the department of fine arts at the University of Alberta.

Graduating from the University of British Columbia in arts, Mr. Risk directed the Players' Club for four years. He then spent five years on the professional stage in England. Coming to Alberta he became director of dramatics for the department of extension at the university and is this year drama director of fine arts. On a Rockefeller Foundation Fellowship he studied at Cornell University, where he obtained his master's degree in drama.

Mr. Risk will be remembered in Coleman for his adjudication last year, when his dynamic personality captivated the audiences. With such an adjudicator and all the new features added to its already excellent organization there is no doubt of the success of this fifth annual Coleman Lions' drama festival.

representing a district of approximately 20,000 people, the following resolution was authorized to be forwarded for your consideration and early action:

WHEREAS: The coal mining industry is of national importance, being a cornerstone of our economy in times of peace, and a vital necessity for defence in times of war, and

WHEREAS: At the present time the coal mining industry is unable to meet the demands made upon it for the supply of coal, creating a critical situation during the war, several winners, and

WHEREAS: This situation is the direct result of shortage of mine labour, and

WHEREAS: As a result of careful surveys being made in the various towns in the district and also from information received from National Employment Officers and coal mine operators, it is fully established that the present labour shortage is directly attributed to a Housing shortage, and further, the surveys of housing conditions brought out the following facts:

THAT: Approximately fourteen hundred young men left the district to join His Majesty's Forces, and that many of them are now returning with brides, and others have married since returning.

THAT: Many of these are desirous of setting up their own homes, and still others who are postponing marriage until living quarters are available.

THAT: Daily, qualified men, veterans and others, from outside points signify their desire to proceed to this area for employment in the mines, but are denied this right because of the absence of living accommodation in the mining towns in this district.

THAT: Many young men who left the district to enlist in the Services are staying in the cities, reluctant to return to mining centres because of the unattractive housing conditions.

THAT: The Housing situation in all the towns in the district is now past the saturation point, and many residents are living in makeshift quarters.

THAT: The mining companies in this area could employ approximately 300 men, but are unable to do so because of lack of living accommodation.

THAT: A total of 500 new homes could be absorbed, and are urgently required to take care of present labour requirements and to alleviate the present congestion, and

WHEREAS: The majority of these homes would be required for veterans, and

WHEREAS: There is not a Veterans' Housing Scheme in force by which veterans in the district under discussion can be given grants or financial aid in the acquisition of homes.

IT WAS RESOLVED: That the Dominion Government be petitioned to declare the area from Burnis, Alberta, to Fernie, B.C., known as the Crows' Nest Pass District, a special area with respect to the Veterans' Land Act, and that the regulation requiring a minimum area of half an acre for Small Holdings grants under the said Act be so qualified to enable veterans in the District to take advantage of said grants under the Act by reducing the minimum area to two 1/4's, or a frontage of fifty feet.

In support of the above resolution it is respectfully pointed out:

THAT: Owing to the topography of the district, there is no available space to permit veterans to acquire large tracts of land, and

THAT: The land is unsuitable for small farming, very little arable land being available, and

THAT: The climate in the greater portion of the district is unsuitable for small farming, and

THAT: The land available for building purposes in the district outlined in this resolution is outside the high taxation areas, and is adjacent to Public Utilities already existing, and

THAT: The wage scale in this district is higher than general wage levels and sufficient to take care of any financial commitments that may be made under the Act.

It is further pointed out:

THAT: The coal mined in this area is Bituminous Steam Coal, and as such commands an all year round market, and not subject to seasonal fluctuations, and

THAT: The mining industry is equally as basic and important to the National Economy as agriculture.

THAT: The general trend of labour is away from the mines, and

THAT: Equal inducements should be made to attract returning veterans to mining as is being made to attract veterans to agriculture, and

THAT: By alleviating the housing shortage in mining areas, and attracting labour to such areas, congestion would be eased to an equal extent in the cities, and at the same time give labour gainful employment, and

WHEREAS: The present quota system for homes under the Veterans' Land Act is inadequate to meet the situation.

IT WAS FURTHER RESOLVED: That the present quota system be changed to provide for priority to be given areas where labour shortages exist due to lack of housing—thereby permitting the grants made under the Small Holdings scheme to serve a double purpose.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Yours truly,

S. C. SHORT, Chairman,

W. H. HAYNE, Secretary,
Bellevue, Alberta.

Beaver Mines Emerson Study Class

SPIRITUAL LAWS

Spiritual laws are not the arbitrary edicts of God, they are in the nature of things, self-enacting and as exact and unerring as the laws of gravity and chemistry. Universal observation and experience point to the fact that man is a spiritual being, operating in a physical body, which is necessary for the soul's experience and exercise to the end of growth and development.

Right or goodness is the choice of a person's particular constitution and Heaven or what he inwardly aspires after is the state or circumstance desirable to his constitution.

Emerson does not place religion in a compartment by itself. Every thought and act is religious, if it be in harmony with man's inner spirit.

The most important epochs in our lives are not those which we usually regarded as outstanding events, but those silent thoughts by the wayside which change our lives.

We should try to forget all our traditional religious dogmas and start afresh by examining into our real nature, to see if we cannot come at an understanding of the basic laws of our being.

Christianity cannot be got from catechisms.

We often encumber ourselves with ponderous machinery of societies and institutions which are as unnecessary as the Roman aqueducts were, when the discovery was made that water always rises to the level of its source.

Our painful endeavors are fruitless — we are effective only as we act on the spontaneous promptings of the heart. Let us then place ourselves in the centre of the stream of power which flows from the great reservoirs of the Over-soul and we shall be impelled without effort to truth and right and a perfect contentment.

A spiritual law renders all teaching, preaching and writing effective or futile according to whether it comes from the heart or the head.

It is spiritual law that unfolds in the individual those attributes of moral beauty and heroism, which he habitually admires, hence Paul's exhortation to think upon whatever things are lovely and good and pure.

In short we are begirt with spiritual laws so that the things that are really for us gravitate to us. — Contd.

Amendments to Wartime Wages Control Order 1943

It has been announced by the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labor, that a number of amendments to the Wartime Wages Control Order 1943 will go into effect on Feb. 15. He said:

"The economic stabilization measures, by permitting an earlier and easier changeover from war to peacetime production, having protected the purchasing power of Canadian incomes whether they originate as old age and retirement pensions, children's allowances, veterans' pensions and allowances, mothers' allowances, workmen's compensation payments, or wages. In effect, the policy has been, and will continue to be, to protect the real value of all sources of income.

"Nevertheless, the War Labor Boards, composed equally of employee and employer representatives, have provided a means for review and revision of inconsistent wage rates within an industry, and notwithstanding limitations on wage rate revisions necessary to the stabilization policy, wage rates have, on the average, increased considerably more than the increase in the cost of living during the same period.

"The cost of living bonus under earlier wage orders and incorporated in existing wage rates in 1943 are part of this general wage increase.

"The government nevertheless recognizes the desirability of lifting all emergency economic controls as quickly as possible. Naturally it is not to be expected that the pressures that make for inflation, developed during five years of war, would be dissipated in a period of a few months, and, in fact, inflation pressures are still strong.

"However, the government now believes that it is possible to make a number of amendments in the wage control order as a first step towards the orderly return to the normal processes of collective bargaining and provincial jurisdiction over wage matters. The success of the stabilization program has been due to the co-operation given by the provinces and employees and employers under the Dominion regulations. The amendments give added flexibility in the adjustment of wage rates and working conditions, both of which are important. The amendments are as follows:

"1. Effective June 30, 1946, normal jurisdiction in the matter of minimum wage rates, hours of work and vacations with pay, will be returned to the provinces.

"2. The present provision authorizing a war labor board to approve an increase in wage rates only where a gross inequality or injustice exists has been repealed, and the following substituted:

"A war labor board may:

"Authorize or direct an employer to increase a single wage rate or the rates of a range established by him under this order or pursuant to a direction of the national (or regional) board for an occupational classification of his employees if and to the extent that the national (or regional) board finds that such rate or rates are low in comparison with the rate or rates generally prevailing or the same or comparable occupational classifications in the same locality or, if there is no such occupational classification in that locality, then in the same comparable occupational classifications in a locality which in the opinion of the board is comparable; or may authorize an employer to vary a single rate or the rates of a range on such other basis and to such extent as in the opinion of the national (or regional) board is reasonable in the circumstances and consistent with the maintenance of existing prices of the goods and services which the employer sells.

"3. Freedom to bargain collectively is restored to employees and employers on questions of vacations with pay, off-shift differentials, hospital aid plans, annuities, pension plans and group insurance plans.

"Knowing as they do the ultimate benefit which both wage-earners and employers, and their respective organizations, will derive from their continued support of the economic stabilization policy, I am confident that during the important transition period of the next few months, they will lend their support to these new developments."

FAMILY ALLOWANCE PICTURE

Canada's Family Allowances have been in operation now for just over a year, and statistics covering the full picture are being released by the department of health and welfare.

Some 1,363,000 families have received allowances to date. The minister reveals that while the largest single payment actually made to date to any one family has been $65 a month the average paid per family has been $14.27.

Two-thirds of Canada's families receiving the allowances average between two and three children each. There are only 3,644 families in Canada having two or more children. This represents only one-third of one per cent of the families in Canada receiving family allowances.

Families containing between five and nine children under sixteen total 122,230, and are 11 per cent of Canada's families. Those having four children or less total over 88 per cent of the families receiving allowances.

Families with income below $3,000 annually derive some revenue from the allowances, though income tax exemptions are lowered by the amount received in allowances.

The general picture of Family Allowances in Canada is that the payment of this money each month is achieving the desired result in terms of better nutrition, better housing, better education, and better opportunities for the children of Canada.

The Little Red School House has taken to the Mails

It has taken to the mails in order to bring education to Alberta's 8,500 children who live in remote areas of the province, or who are confined to hospitals and institutions because of long illnesses, or whose district schools have closed because of the teacher shortage.

It has become known as the Department of Education's "Correspondence School Branch". Headquarters . . . Edmonton, Staff . . . 95 fully qualified teachers who, week after week, prepare lessons for mailing, and mark and correct workbooks and examination papers as they are returned; Enrollment . . . 8,500 pupils who are called to study . . . not by a school bell . . . but by the growl of the mail truck fighting its way through the mud and snow of the rural mail route . . . by the drone of the plane bringing mail into Coppermine and Fort McPherson . . . by the staccato barking of the huskies mushing toward some northern fur trading post . . . or by the crackle of a nurse's white uniform as she carries the mail to the children's ward of an Alberta hospital.

SCHOLASTIC STANDING HIGH

Correspondence School students are studying under handicaps undreamed of by children of urban schools, yet their scholastic standing is as high, sometimes higher, than that of urban and district school pupils. A number of them have received the governor-general's medal and other scholarships for outstanding achievement, and many graduates have enrolled at the universities.

ALBERTA'S LARGEST SCHOOL

The little red school house which took to the mails has become, not only Alberta's largest school, but also a tribute to the foresight of Alberta's pioneers of education, and a permanent reminder of the courage and determination of students whose desks were kitchen tables and whose introduction to education was a postage stamp.

Police Report For The Months Of Jan. Feb. And March

Police report for the months of January and February and to present date in March—

There has been only four court cases for the two months:

- 1 for assault,
- 1 for failing to stop at stop sign,
- 1 for beating room rent,
- 1 for child delinquency.

This man was sent to jail for three months. He was living with a girl under the age of eighteen and is a married man, his wife living in or near Moose Jaw.

Car accident at Bobbitt's corner between a truck owned by Charlie Sartoris, Blairmore, and car owned by Bert Garrett, of Coleman. Truck cut to the left while making a left-hand turn and car going west ran into truck. The insurance company paid for the damage done to Garrett's car. The road on that avenue between Bobbitt's Service Station and the Morris residence is only about twenty-five feet wide, this roadway should be at least forty feet at that point.

Jan. 10, 1946—Accident again occurred at Bobbitt's corner, between truck and car. The car being owned by Lloyd Bloomfield, of Olds, Alberta, and truck owned by O. Celti, of Coleman. On this occasion, the truck going through to McGillivray tangle and car going east. The truck ran into car. Insurance company paid damages.

Feb. 11, 1946.—At 6 o'clock p.m. was informed that an accident had occurred at intersection of Granby avenue and Second street. The Dench transport going west and cutting too far to the left was making the left-hand turn. John McNeil coming from the west saw truck coming around corner. He knew he could not avoid the accident, swerved his car to the left. The accident occurred in the centre of the highway. The running surface of the highway is thirty-six feet wide at that point. The Dench transport company has promised to pay damages to McNeil's car if the accident is not too big. There was no person seriously hurt in the accident, which was very lucky, as the road was covered with glare ice. I might add there has been no driver in court over these three accidents.

The West Coleman school was entered Jan. 19 or 20 by someone unknown. Some money was stolen from the school, being three or four dollars. I questioned 18 boys over this breaking and entering, but could get no place with it.

The Rite Spot has had money and goods stolen from the premises. One youth is suspected of this theft, but to date we have not enough evidence to have him into court.

Sunday, March 3, 1946.—James Kellock, of Calgary, came to my house and handed me a wallet containing Six Hundred and Seventy One Dollars and Thirty Cents, which he had found in a room of the Grand Union hotel occupied by him. I went to Blairmore and checked up all circulars concerning stolen money. I then made a record of all numbers of the different bills and made out receipt in the event the money was claimed. On Monday morning of the 4th, a phone call came through from Cranbrook from one Robert G. Little, inquiring if a wallet had been found in the hotel containing money. I phoned Cranbrook after being advised of this phone call, and advised him to come back and identify himself as the owner of the money. He came to the office at 1.30 in the afternoon, produced his bank book, ration book, the name corresponded with that on his registration card in the wallet. I returned to him the wallet and money, had him sign the receipt for same, the receipt of having received money being duly witnessed by the secretary Gladys Lees.

Owing to various remarks having been made to me as to what Antle had done with money he got, I have detailed as above the incident, and would wish that this report be published in the weekly press, to satisfy those people who are worried that I kept the money.

There are two laundries starting up in town. These people should be made to put in very deep cesspools and not wait longer before so doing, we shall be having the same trouble as with the former laundry of Sam Lee and others.

March 10.—I was called to the Rite Spot restaurant, owned and operated by Fred Weier, at 9 o'clock p.m. On arrival I found four men were in the restaurant, one was causing considerable trouble, the other three were trying to get him out and not making a good job of it. He became unmanageable, started swearing, kicking, fighting and hitting anybody that came into his range. When I approached him to take him into custody, he struck me in the eye, I was forced to call in assistance, and had him removed to the RCMP barracks at Blairmore. To keep guard all night, I hired one Alex. Piesuk and his account is herewith presented for the amount of $9.10.

This morning (March 11) at 10.30 three charges were laid against him, one assault, one for being intoxicated and one for striking a police officer. He was sentenced to eight months in jail.

Yours very truly,
Wm. Antel, Chief of Police.

THEATRE NOTES

AT PALACE SAT. AND MON.

Romance and the supernatural make for the dual themes of Samuel Goldwyn's new technicolor comedy for RKO Radio release, "Wonder Man." Danny Kaye is in the starring dual role of identical twins of vastly different temperaments who are in love with two girls.

Just before he is to appear as key witness in a murder trial, Buzzy Bellow, a night club entertainer, is murdered, and his restless spirit takes over the career of his twin, Edwin Dingle, a studious young bookworm. As a consequence Edwin gets into the most hilarious jams with the object of his affection (Virginia Mayo) as well as with Buzzy's sweetheart (Vera-Ellen).

Complications pile up on each other until a truly hilarious climax brings relief to the harassed Edwin and sets Buzzy's spirit at rest for all time.

Again Danny Kaye exhibits his amazing versatility in song, dance, clowning, and just plain acting. Sumptuous dancing and musical production numbers are introduced between the comedy sequences of "Wonder Man."

AT COLE'S, BELLEVUE

At Bellevue this week end the lovely and talented Deanna Durbin appears, making history in her first hilarious "who-done-it." Appearing with her are Ralph Belamy, David Bruce, Allen Jenkins and Edward Everett Horton.

AT ORPHEUM, BLAIRMORE

Opening Saturday is a tense three-cornered romance within the narrow confines of a hospital in a war frontier Chinese town which develops into a smashing climax in RKO Radio's spectacular drama, "China Sky," starring Randolph Scott, Ruth Warrick and Ellen Scott and Miss Warrick play American doctors, co-workers in a little bomb-strafed village. Miss Drew, cast as Scott's bride, is a problem because of her total inability to adapt herself to conditions, her intense jealousy for her rival, and her desperate betrayal of them all. The subsequent disaster makes for a fast moving and engrossing climax and a fitting end to this absorbing romance.

Anthony Quinn, Carol Thurston and Richard Loo, head the supporting cast of this film adaptation of the Pearl Buck novel.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Automobiles will be banished from the island of Sark when British troops have departed.

The year-old Elre has on sending wedding presents out of the country has been lifted—except for suites of furniture.

Full-scale production of gold, expected to play a major part in Australia's future economy, is being received in the Commonwealth.

There are still 50,000 live mines in the Mediterranean and more than 10,000 of them in the Aegean Sea, says Cmdr. E. Swarder of the British Navy.

The New Zealand government has offered 16,000 tons of food valued at $1,000,000 ($4,500,000), as a gift to Britain, Acting Prime Minister Walter Nash announced.

The Montreal city council passed a by-law prohibiting smoking in department and other large stores in the city. The measure was taken to reduce fire hazards.

Britain has transferred five German destroyers and two torpedo boats to France, the foreign office said. The ships were part of Britain's allocation from the German fleet.

The automotive industry in Britain is aiming at exporting 50 per cent more cars than before the war. Lord Nuffield says that his factories are hoping to export 1,000 vehicles per week.

England now has 240 oil wells producing about half a million barrels of crude oil a year. They were drilled during the war by an Oklahoma contractor for the British government.

Empress Nagako, following the example of the Emperor in an apparently planned program to democratize the Japanese royal family in the eyes of the people, visited a hospital and orphanage in the Tokyo area.

To All Parts Of Empire

Botanical Research In Britain Aids Whole Commonwealth

Professor Salisbury, director of the Royal Botanic Gardens at Kew, says live specimens and seeds are sent to Kew from all parts of the Empire and are re-distributed from there. Kew's contribution to the establishment of plantation rubber and Cinchona in various parts of the Commonwealth and Empire is well known, but the history of the introduction of other economic plants to new areas may not be so generally realized. Sir Geoffrey Evans, Kew's economic Botanist, conceived the idea of removing the rose ends of potatoes and partially drying them to serve as sets, instead of cutting large potatoes into smaller parts. This much of the crop can be used as food and still provide material for planting. These sets weigh less than one fifth of those normally employed, and thus permits of carriage by air, the method having been successful in the transport of potato sets to Malta and other Mediterranean countries. An entry in the Kew records, dated August 1864, shows a consignment of cocoa pods to West Africa, probably the first introduction of that plant to West Africa, and eleven varieties of West Indian cocoa were sent to Ceylon, where they grew and fruited well. Ceylon now grows some of the world's best cocoa. The "Kew pine apple", the Smooth Cayenne now widely grown throughout the tropics was imported from Kew as was the Macadania or Queensland Nut. Kew's Research Workers have been able to produce and export high quality and disease-resistant bananas, cassavas and passion fruit.

Warlike needs stimulated the search for sources rich in vitamin, and Rose hips from the hedgerows of Britain were investigated and as a result a syrup was produced with about five times the vitamin content of orange juice.

Work is being carried out at Kew on the production of rubber from dandelions.

These few examples out of many will show the vast range of subjects and diversity of services to the Commonwealth and Empire performed at Kew.

NATURAL QUESTION

An Englishman touring Canada was staying in a wayside hotel. One night it was very cold and the Englishman, feeling it pretty badly, came downstairs early next morning to get warm. At the same time a trapper, who had been out looking at his traps, came in at the door. He was hanging on his moustache and with a plying expression the Englishman looked at him and exclaimed:

"By Jove, old man, what room did you sleep in?"

OUTLOOK NOT BRIGHT

Lack of wheat is by no means the whole of Europe's hunger story. Estimates published in the Wall Street Journal place this year's meat production on the continent at 43 per cent, of the pre-war volume, cheese at 47, eggs at 48, milk at 37, France's grain crop at less than 60 per cent.

LOOKING FORWARD TO NEW LIFE IN CANADA—Cpl. John Wolpe, the "stateless" German Jew who joined the Winnipeg Rifles as an unofficial soldier in Europe, arrives in Winnipeg aboard a hospital ship. The 27-year-old hero arrived unheralded as a full-fledged member of the Canadian army and a Canadian citizen. He still has a limp, the result of a machine-gun wound in his right thigh. Cpl. Wolpe, whose first name is Hans but which he changed to John because Hans was "too German", has adopted Winnipeg as his future home because of his association with the Rifles.

A Colorful Bazaar

Londoners In Search Of Bargains Go To Petticoat Lane

"Keep your 'ands in your pockets," smilingly warned a grey-haired woman vendor at the entry to Petticoat Lane, London's "Sunday bazaar," as her sharp eyes spotted green-horns.

At first glance this badly-bilitized street in London's east end looks like the crowded midway of a Canadian fair on a pre-war Labor Day. The games and rides are missing but Petticoat Lane has its own odd-shows.

Pushcarts, piled high with practically anything for sale, beckon to the visitor watches and presided over by salesmen who may be British 8th Army veterans still in uniform, or old men and women, line the street hand-to-hand.

Londoners, in search of bargains, push and shove their way between them, some licking ice cream cones, others munching sandwiches, and many just staring.

Petticoat Lane is open for business Sundays only from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Each week it echoes with the sound of feet thudding on the brickied road and the hoarse pleas of the salesmen.

Uniformed policemen patrol the sidewalks behind the barrows while plainclothes detectives mingle with the crowd, on the alert for light-fingered wayfarers.

Goods are displayed haphazardly. One cart groans under a load of used clothing, including a tattered girdle. Next to it is a cart on which perfumes are carefully arranged, tended by two solemmn East Indians clad with turbans.

Stockings, which the salesman described as silk sell for sixpence (12 cents) a pair, plus one clothing coupon. Adjoining, a woman calmly cleans chickens, while next to her the crowd thickens around an ice cream cart.

Further on a broad-shouldered, big-chested giant in a turtle-necked sweater tells a throng about the evils of weight-lifting and other forms of strenuous exercise.

"Ten years ago I predicted so-and-so would die. Well, he died didn't he?" he demands.

Significant Name

The Teutonic Meaning Of Eisenhower Is "Iron Cutter"

In welcoming General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of the Allies on the Western Front in the defeat of Germany, Dr. H. J. Cody, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, made a happy reference to the significance of the name of the great soldier-statesman. A paragraph from the Chancellor's eloquent speech will bear quoting: "One curious historical parallel intrigues me today. In the year 1066, William the Conqueror invaded England to claim his Crown. The forces of the Normans and the Saxons joined battle where Battle Abbey now stands. Before the Norman host rode William's minstrel to incite his men to fight by singing perfections of the Chanson de Roland. The minstrel's name was Tralleifer; it means a cutter of iron. Nearly nine hundred years later another man led English-speaking armies across the English Channel from Western to overthrow a merciless tyranny that held as under bars of iron the peoples of Western Europe. He was born in the New World thousands of miles away, and his name was Eisenhower. The meaning of that Teutonic name is Iron Cutter. He went forth to cut the bars of iron and set the people free."—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

RATHER FUSSEY

As the inquisitive man sat on a seat in the park he watched a shabby individual coming along picking up cigarette-ends.

Then the tramp sat down on the seat and began sorting his spoils. Presently he threw quite a long one away. This was too much for the curious looker-on.

"Excuse me," he said. "That looked a good one. Why did you throw it away?"

The tramp drew himself up proudly and replied: "It ain't my brand."

The first money mint probably was established in Lydia toward the end of the eighth century, B.C. 2663

Scientific Methods

Used To Develop Farms In Russia's Sub-Arctic Area

The frozen muskog of Soviet Transbaikalia is being used to make trappers of the sub-Arctic area self-sufficient. More and more collective and state farms are being developed.

Typical is a collective farm at Zolokoushensk in the Chita region, formed three years before the war by several hunters and their families. Their curiosity was first aroused by a visit to the Chitka Experimental Station where scientists were studying the potentialities of the frozen soil.

The trappers decided to start their own. The first year they had 35 acres in production from which they produced three tons of wheat and 20 tons of vegetables, but by 1943 they were self-sufficient in wheat and were able to deliver 125 tons of wheat and oats to the state.

During the war, the farm, called Novaya Zhizn (New Life), doubled its sown area and produced potatoes, cabbages, tomatoes, cabbage and melons in addition to grain.

The farm also is experimenting with stockbreeding and has three farms for cattle, hogs and sheep.

ENJOY THEIR TEA

There are 1,000 tea houses in Chungking, and all are busy from dawn to dusk. Businessmen and gossip, lovers and farmers and even the rich and coolies order their cup of tea and call again and again for boiling water as they chat or rest. And always in the tea houses are the fortune-tellers.

The focal point of Sunday's dinner can tastefully be fresh or pickled tongue, simmered until tender and served hot with an orange-raisin sauce. Whipped potatoes and green beans will complete a top of the stove meal. And you should be able to calculate on leftover tongue for a week-day lunch service. The first roads on your week's ration will be made on Monday, with 5 tokens for one pound of minced round steak, the basis of well-seasoned, crisply browned meat cakes. Now that the dried bean family is making a more plentiful appearance on most markets, Tuesday's meatless main dish might well be a casserole of lima or navy beans, whole wheat muffins and a mixed salad should assure a meal of nutritious and appetizing goodness. Minced beef and veal make a pleasing combination for a meat loaf. For variation, line the bottom and sides of a loaf pan with your favorite meat mixture, fill the centre with a good bread dressing, and cover with the meat mixture. After Wednesday's dinner, you should have on hand the solution to a luncheon problem. Thursday's lamb stew, topped with dumplings, is toothsome fare for six tokens. And by Friday the wheel of good eating revolves to fish. With almost half your ration intact makes Saturday an opportune time to satisfy the family's penchant for a juicy steak. Even so, you'll have to your credit seven tokens to augment your purchases if you have a guest night, or to help out with next week's roast day.

Time Will Tell

Battleship Will Soon Be Useless In Opinion Of U.S. Admiral

Like the dinosaur, the battleship has outlived its climate and its age, according to Admiral John H. Towers, the new commander of the United States Pacific fleet. Admiral Towers says that only two American battleships ever fired a shot against Japanese ships in the Pacific war. They were useful in anti-aircraft defence and in bombing enemy islands but this could have been done just as well and less expensively by other smaller ships.

In the near future, the Admiral believes, atomic bomb tests in the Pacific will finally show that the battleship is obsolete.

If he is right, one of the great legends of the sea is passing—the mighty floating fortress which seemed to be the ultimate safeguard of all maritime nations. The battleship of the future, carrying the fire power of the atom bomb, will fly.—Winnipeg Free Press.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

NOBILITY

The true standard of quality is sealed in the mind; those who think nobly are noble.—Isaac Bickerstaffe.

We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives.—Mary Baker Eddy.

If a man be endowed with a generous mind, this is the best kind of nobility.—Plato.

The generous who is always just, and the just who is always generous, may, unannounced, approach the throne of heaven.—Lavater.

He who gives what he would as readily throw away, gives without generosity; for the essence of generosity is in self-sacrifice.—Sir Henry Taylor.

There never did, and never will exist anything permanently noble and excellent in the character which is a stranger to the exercise of resolute self-denial.—Walter Scott.

Timely Advice

Strong Nations Should Be Eager To Help Weak Neighbors

There is an obvious symbolism in the collapse of war-damaged buildings in Vienna in the face of a storm that in normal times would do no more damage than blow the dust from the cornices or dislodge a loose board or two. Now when the rains come and the winds blow, the buildings fall. Then months after the war Vienna adds nine dead and thirty-four injured to her list of war casualties.

The falling buildings of Vienna are symbolic of so much of the world today, a world where very foundations have been racked by six years of the most brutal and devastating war of history. Some of it still retains a fairly imposing facade, but that is no guarantee that the supporting walls and the foundation still are sound. It behooves those of us who still live in sound houses to continue with unremitting vigor to bolster the obviously weakened buildings of our neighbors, or help them in building new and better houses on the ruins of the old.—New York Times.

"Come, Rafe," Rufus, "we've got to thresh this out and we better do it now. It's you or I—can't be both. May hurt." He sighed deeply.

"You bet. If we have to split, let's face it chin up. I feel queer, Rufe." "Spose it had to come sometime. Let's go up to the Roof." Rufus was the Randal twin whose curly brick red locks up-thrust benignly. Rafe's hair waved gently, less independent than Rufus's but no less subdued in color. Ever since they could climb and had important matters to debate the twins had their private sanctum. It was in the great barn loft on the hay mow where a hollowed out space in front of a window afforded the needed seclusion.

At seventeen plus these boys were six feet tall. Somewhat gangling as yet, but their broadening shoulders indicated their future proportions. Their movements, gait, were alike, their voices almost identical and their very thoughts seemed coalescent. Their mother looked at them and wondered "how come?" Their father watched them going on and up, young giants topping him a good inch with nothing place in sight.

They reached the barn and swung up on hay to their lair disposing themselves for earnest conference.

"Rafe," Rufe began, his voice trembling a little from emotion, "this is hard. We haven't had girl trouble yet. Now we're struck down. Looks like a parting of the ways. We don't know which one she'll like. I know she's the only girl for me and if she doesn't choose me, I'll have to go away and become a doctor or a sailor or something." He heaved a sigh that set his heavy hair in motion. The freckles on his nose stood out in bold relief.

"Yep," his brother answered, "this is a wonder. I don't want to go away and become a doctor or a sailor or something. He heaved a sigh that set his heavy hair in motion. The freckles on his nose stood out in bold relief.

"Yep," his brother answered, "this is a wonder. I don't want to go away and become a doctor or a sailor or something. He heaved a sigh that set his heavy hair in motion. The freckles on his nose stood out in bold relief.

"Perhaps she'd rather not wait. Maybe she'd like to hope," dreamily, "girls like romance. Well, Rufe, if she chooses you, I'll help all I can even if I have to watch your happiness while my heart is breaking. I shall always lead a single life. Another deep sigh.

"We've always done things together," said Rufe, "nothing much really come between us ever. Who ever loses must suffer in silence. Note. How different everything is in—love-table. Only one can get her. We can offer our hearts and hands, our lifelong devotion, on our knees I s'pose. Maybe we better practice getting on our knees."

"That's right, I guess. We can be when we get done here."

"Gosh, Rafe, can't you see her? That gorgeous black hair, eyes swimming in beauty. Like soft velvet—you know, like that gown of Ma's, her grace, her sweet and gentle voice like trees murmuring in the breeze, her tones of sweetest music 'a-tearing up my heart."

"Just where did you get that?" asked Rufe, eyeing his alter ego suspiciously.

"Read some poetry. Takes you right off the earth. Eyes of moonlight, teeth of pearl, hair of midnight, peerless girl."

"Huh, you never read that, you goon," with a grimace, "you made it up or something—or I s'pose you'd be telling her that?"

"Do you reckon she'd like it? To show my adoration—my—my consuming love?"

"I shall spread my cloak for her dainty feet to walk on like Sir Walter Raleigh, and tell her I'm her knight to the death. Any task she gives me to perform—"

"Where'd you get the cloak?" interrupted Rafe rudely.

"My coat, then. Well, we've got to do something. If we weren't brothers, we could fight a duel."

"Duel—gosh, Rafe. How about getting dressed up tonight and go together and say. Here we are your faithful knights. Please choose between us your own true love. Put us out of our suspense." What she'll have us to do show our devotion, it shall be done for we—of us—is hers forever."

"That's swell, Rufe. Good way to start things and we'll go on from there. Think how happy she'll be. Say, what was Nancy telling you last night?"

She said I was a moonstruck ass and I said she little knew the pangs of love. The wound by Cupid's dart shot out to kill, for her sweet sake my blood'll spill. Oh! When I think what's happened to me!"

"Me too. She almost said right out she was losing her heart." Rafe sounded exultant.

"She said that to me too. Clarice—Rufe rolled the word out—'Isn't that a wonderful name?' Just fits her. Did you call her Clarice?"

"She asked me to. Sweet name. My sweet Clarice." Rafe's smile was reminiscent.

"Yeah. She asked how she could ever tell us apart. I said, just pick the one who is your adoring slave, who clasps you round with love, who worships you so far above. I didn't know then they were hit too. She just laughed."

"You're a fast worker, boy. Listen! It rests so sweetly in my heart, the gentle name Clarice. I dream of when she will be mine, to love, adore, caress."

"By jinks, Rafe, do you s'pose we'll turn into poets?" Rufe was startled.

"Love will do anything. Think she'll want us to dye our hair?"

"She said she loved our hair. Showed great personality, was very distinctive," Rufe crowded.

"We better go down now this is settled. We'll have to get the chere done early so Dad won't suspect. What if you reckon he'd say?"

"Well, one of us will be left him. Listen, there's a car. Can you see who it is?"

Rafe twisted his head almost out of the window. "Gosh, Rufe, it's her—Clarice. She's come to see us."

"Couldn't wait. I bet. Who's with her?"

"Dunno. Pull yourself together. We've got to go, nobody here."

A car was entering the driveway. In it was a vivid, black-haired girl who looked eagerly at the house. Her companion was a serious-looking young man with a likeable smile, several years older than herself. They got out of the car. She called:

"Yoo hoo—anybody home?"

Rufus and Rafe came from the barn with hair and straw clinging to various parts of their garments. Rufe's hair stood out in all directions and resembled burning brushwood. Rafe looked sheepish. They greeted their lady friend with some diffidence.

"Oh, hello boys," she said. "I'm going home tomorrow and wanted to say goodbye. This is my fiancé, Alan Gordon. Alan, Rufus and Rafe. They were sweet to me at Mom's party. I had such a lovely time."

"That was very nice of you. Glad to meet you both," smiled Mr. Gordon and shook hands heartily. They exchanged a few commonplace remarks. Clarice said:

"Well have to go. Alan came to take me home. We're going to be married next week. Look us up when you come to town. Goodbye" and good luck." Handwaving, they drove away.

"Clare, that's quite a pair," said Alan. "Unusual one might say."

"You see why I wanted you to meet them. But Alan—" with a side-long glance, "I did have a good time."

"I imagine you did," he said with an amused laugh, "I'm ashamed of you."

The twins stared at each other for several minutes after the visitors had gone. Then in perfect unison they ejaculated, "Women!" in utter disgust.

"Rafe let's go fishing tomorrow."

"Let's," said Rafe. They looked at each other sorrowfully. Then simultaneously they burst into loud guffaws.

"Saved, by jinks."

SMILE AWHILE

Friend: "I understand you every name he can think of. Politician: Yes, but he hasn't much of a vocabulary."

"Remember my boy," said the wealthy uncle, "that money does not bring happiness."

But the young man was ready for that one.

"I don't expect it to," he replied; "I merely want it so that I shall be able to choose the kind of misery most agreeable to me."

Mrs. Smith met her friend, Mrs. Jones out shopping and stopped for a chat.

"I hear your husband has taken up the violin," said Mrs. Jones.

"Yes," said Mrs. Smith, "and he's doing line with it. They've returned his oil can from next door already."

Two colored men were discussing the possibilities of safety.

"Sam," said Mose, "if you had your way, which would you rather be in—a collision or explosion?"

"A collision, of course, replied Sam promptly.

"How come?" asked Mose.

"Well, in a collision, even you is in an explosion, where is you?"

Second Collegian—"No."

A Chinaman was taking a walk through the woods when he noticed a grizzly bear following, smelling his tracks.

"So," he said, "you like my tracks? Velly good, me make more!"

The visitor was leaving the art gallery after an hour's visit. "And what do you think of our pictures?" asked the curator.

"I like the pictures fine," said the visitor, "but there aren't any jokes under them."

The Latest Discovery

Plastic Cheewing Gum is Another
Miracle Announced by Scientists

There seems to be no limit to the miracles of science. The latest discovery to make this a better world in which to live is plastic cheewing gum. It will come in six delicious flavors, we presume—uranium, plutonium, neptunium, actinium, polonium, and raspberry.

Moreover, says the magazine Plastics, the new gum is moisture proof and nonstickable. This will present a parking problem to persons accustomed to sticking their gum under restaurant tables and theatre seats, but to every child there is a silver lining. At least it won't stick to shoes and clothing, either.

If in addition to its other remarkable qualities, the plastic gum has bubble-blowing characteristics, it might be used to alleviate the shortage of ping-pong balls.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GARDEN

NOTES

Informality Is Recommended

Usually an informal layout of flower gardens, lawn and shrubbery about the home gives the best results. The formal garden where there are straight rows, straight paths, and everything is just so is a matter for professionals and large estates. With the average lot in town or country there are too many straight lines in any case, like driveways, foundation walls and fences. The main idea in gardening is to break these and soften them. To do this shrubbery is planted in irregular clumps around, but not too close to, the house, with highest groupings at the corners and around the front porch. Variety may be added by the odd climbing vine.

Unless the lawn is generous in size, experts advise leaving the centre fairly open, with flower beds and shrubs around the edges and in front of the fences and driveways. Generally the bigger and taller flowers are planted at the back, but for the sake of variety a few of these should be brought forward. Instead of single plantings groups of individual varieties are advisable. For continuous bloom, consult a good Canadian seed catalogue where such details as season of blooming, color, height, hardiness and other essential facts will be listed.

Spacing The Vegetables

Vegetables divide themselves into distinct groups. The first are the quick-growing things like radish, spinach and lettuce. These can be planted in rows a foot apart when one is going to cultivate by hand. Carrots, beets, beans are a little larger and grow more slowly. Minimum space here would be about 15 inches, and rather more for the larger beans. Peas can be planted in double rows about a foot apart, then twice that much space until the next double row. Tomatoes require at least 18 inches when staked, and three to four feet if not staked. Corn rows should be at least 30 inches apart, and the same goes for potatoes, melons, cucumbers and small table squash do best in hills about 30 inches square and eventually about eight to twelve plants to a hill. Space between hills should be at least 15 inches to allow for spreading and cultivation.

An Early Start

One of the best short cuts is to plant many flowers and vegetables indoors in hot beds or shallow window boxes, or to buy started plants from greenhouses and set these outside after danger of frost is past. Tomatoes, peppers, petunias, etc., have to be given this early start if they are to bloom or reach maturity in most parts of the Dominion. For the home gardener, a shallow box in the window is the simplest solution. Take a box a couple of inches deep filled with light soil. Seeds are planted in rows an inch or so apart about a month before the plants would normally be sown or set outside. The box is placed in a sunny window, watered carefully and once the seeds have germinated and the first set of leaves have developed they are thinned to permit husky growth. As the weather gets warmer the plants should be hardened off by exposing gradually to cooler air.

CANADIAN PROFESSOR SLAIN

Dr. James C. Taylor, 31, distinguished scholar of Toronto, Ont., who died in hospital in Brisbane, Australia, was fatally injured in a street fray. En route to Melbourne university to accept a post in the department of philosophy, he went ashore at Brisbane when his ship docked, strayed unknowingly into a locality "notorious for brawls and disturbances." Police said he was either clubbed or knocked down, his head striking the sidewalk. He was unconscious for a week.

Board Wrong Ships

Bad Mix-Up For Two War Prisoners at Singapore

This is the story of the Scotsman and the Australian who wound up in each other's homes by mistake. Angus McGow, whose home is in Scotland, and Alec McGowan, of Australia, were prisoners of war in Singapore.

When they were being sent home Angus heard the sergeant call what he thought was his name and he boarded a ship. Alec answered what he thought was his name and boarded another ship.

It developed the men had answered for each other and got aboard the wrong ships.

Now Angus is in Australia and Alec is staying with Angus' mother in Perthshire, Scotland, and both are clamoring to get home.

Probably anyone who has ever heard an Army roll call will understand.

He's a "WINDSOR" Salt Fan

This Maori chieftain (shown here in ceremonial make-up), seasons his meals with C-I-L "Windsor" Salt, exported regularly from Canada to his native New Zealand.

In Canada, however, salt has far wider significance, even though to most of us it is just a table essential. When treated chemically by C-I-L at Windsor, Ontario, it also becomes the basis for such commodities as chlorine, hydrochloric acid, caustic soda and synthetic ammonia, which have a range of application from the treatment of drinking water to the curing of hides.

SERVING CANADIANS  THROUGH CHEMISTRY

Looking Ahead

A new D.D.T. powder... an exploding rivet... a new fungicide... nylon hose.

One of the most important advantages of the new D.D.T. powder, Decasol 50w, is that sprays are made up simply by adding it to water. Unlike old-type D.D.T. products, the spray is non-inflammable and may be safely used on livestock and plants.

Chemists have developed an explosive charge in the shape of a rivet. When heat is applied to the head, it explodes the charge in the shank which expands and sets the rivet. Now used in aircraft, it has many other time and money-saving uses.

A new organic fungicide by the name of "Fermate" is now available commercially in Canada. "Fermate" has been extensively tested by Government Plant Pathologists and is reported to have many advantages over sulphur and copper fungicides in controlling orchard diseases such as apple and pear scabs.

Soon now, the ladies will be able to buy nylon hose more sheer than any nylons they've ever seen. These super-sheer stockings will be knit by Canada's hosiery manufacturers from nylon yarn made by C-I-L at Kingston, Ontario.

Further information on any of these products is obtainable by writing C-I-L, P.O. Box 10, Montreal, P.Q.
